THE Heartbeat OF THE NORTHWEST

PACIFIC N.W.

May/June 2020

A Word from the President

Welcome to Covid19 month 2. It looks like Governor Inslee may let us return to a somewhat "normal" life here in Washington State soon, but what is normal going to be? I'm sure we all have a different answer to that question. For me, it would be going outside and hanging out with family and friends, returning to Car Shows and Club events.

As of right now we are still planning to hold the All Camaro Show at XXX Drive-In in Issaquah on July 19th, we will be in touch with Jose and Marv to see where they are in moving forward with shows at their location. Also, the Northwest GM Nationals are still being planned for August 22nd at Pacific Raceways in Kent.

Although I have seen a few cruises for Graduations, Birthdays, Fund raisers, or just to get out of the house on a beautiful day and go for a drive, please remember to keep a safe distance from the car in front and beside you.

These are strange times and we will get through this. We are concerned for the safety of all our club members, their families and friends, so please keep yourselves safe and I hope to see you later this summer

Kevin Ames
President PNWCC

Veeps Corner by Lance Rayfield

I hope our newsletter finds you and your family in good health and spirits during these challenging times! The Coronavirus outbreak has created some strange times for all of us and a new normal for now. I am sure all of you are finding lots to do with your Camaros while you are home-bound.

Though we would all be having impromptu cruises and meets starting about now it is prudent to social distance ourselves for a while. What I find inspiring are people who are looking for other ways to connect. I see virtual Car Shows on Facebook and stress-relieving fun with our present situation. There are also calls for technical support with someone's Camaro that some of us could help with. Of course, the most fun social distancing can get is going for a drive in the Camaro. Be aware of your surroundings when you get out of your car and maintain good distance from others.

We will all overcome these strange times and with luck, the virus will calm down over the summer, and we can have a few Car Shows before we have to hunker down again in the Fall/Winter. Be Safe! Lance Rayfield vicepresident@pnwcc.com.

PNWCC Member and Camaro Ownership Stats

When I joined the Board, I started asking general questions about the Club stats. How many members are there, where are they regionally distributed, what generation of Camaro is the most popular, how many people own more than one Camaro. I got a lot of great guesses and info from stats a few years ago. As soon as I was able to access the Club's master list I was able to do some fun analysis…so here they are:

You Might Have Camaro "Car-Owner" Virus if…

…you care more about smiles per gallon than miles per gallon!

...you come to a tunnel, drop a gear, accelerate and listen to the sweet music!

…you give your Camaro a name and gender.

…you get excited about applying a ceramic coating to your Camaro.

…you love the smell of High-Octane fuel.

…you love movies that only have car chases.

…you know what engine is in a Camaro by the sound of it.

…you panic when you park your Camaro somewhere unfamiliar.

…you think about your Camaro…even when you are not driving it.

…you go in your garage just to gaze and admire your Camaro!

…you would choose your Camaro over people!

…some of life's most memorable moments occurred in your Camaro!

…you never take advantage of valet service in your Camaro!

…you recite the code of conduct when people ride in your Camaro!

…you lovingly gaze back at your Camaro after parking it.

…your thoughts are mainly made up of Camaro parts.

…you don't want anything but Camaro related gifts for B-Days and Christmas!

…washing and waxing your Camaro is not a chore…it's a joy!

…the only thing you bother taking pictures of is your Camaro!

…you have a blind hatred for Mustangs!

…you don't allow any food or drink in your Camaro.

…you feel an instant bond with anyone that owns a Camaro.

…you suffer from OCD – Obsessive Camaro Disorder!

DIY Show Boards

One way to "kick it up a notch" when showing your car is to have a Show Board. This is usually a poster size display that has a title, picture(s) of your car and specs or story about your car that you want to convey to spectators and judges. Usually, Show Boards are custom made and can cost hundreds of dollars. I am a little bit savvy when it comes to graphics programs…so I searched for a do-it-yourself approach.

Though I did not find websites that provide Show Board templates, I did find a cool website called Poster My Wall (www.postermywall.com) that have Car Show Poster templates. Search for "Car Show" on the website to go through a couple of hundred templates. You can select a template and edit it to suit your needs. Pick and choose until you find one that fits the personality of your car. Almost all of the elements in the template can be deleted, adjusted and edited.

The biggest challenge will be finding suitable photo(s) to insert into your Show Board. If you can find an image you can easily cut out the background would be the best approach. I used the most rudimentary graphic editor which is standard on Windows operating systems – Microsoft "Paint". I was lucky, I just bought my Camaro and there were perfect pictures in the "Build and Price" section of the Chevrolet website. If you do not have a suitable image you could take a picture of your car with a bland background, like a large wall, that provides an outline for easy editing. Save your image as a .png file which will make your image background transparent. Insert your picture into the template.

Once you are done, you can buy a print of your creation! I recommend the 12"X18" ($12.95) for Show, though if you want to go big and want a poster size, go for the 20"X30" ($17.95) or 24"X36" ($24.95).
So now what? I have a photo, what do I do with it?

Next installment...Options for Mounting and Displaying your Show Board. Cheers! LR

Oh...and here's a couple of little-known wine facts for you fearless wine buffs. I found on them on the internet…so they must be true.

- Intense fear or hatred of wine is called "oenophobia."
- Wine 'tastings' are somewhat inaccurately named – top sommeliers agree that smell is by far the most important sense when it comes to drinking wine.
- A "cork-tease" is someone who constantly talks about the wine he or she will open but never does.

Would You Rather Drive a "Fat Dragon" or a "Bumblebee"?

China is the world's largest automotive market and the population is becoming increasingly interested in custom cars, motorsports, car shows and everything else that has become synonymous with automotive culture elsewhere.

China likes giving popular vehicles endearing Mandarin nicknames. Chinese car fans do this for two reasons: because the foreign brand name may be hard to pronounce, or because it sounds like an existing phrase in Mandarin.

For example, the Bugatti Veyron is known as the (féi lóng), or "fat dragon," because of its round shape and the fact that "Veyron" sounds like "lóng" in Mandarin, which means "dragon."

Porsche gets a decidedly less endearing nickname – it's sometimes referred to as (pò xié), or "broken shoes" due to the similar pronunciation of the phrase in Mandarin. Mercedes' 'AMG' performance sub-brand, meanwhile, is (ai mǔ jī), or "love the hen" due to the similar pronunciation.

So what do Chinese car fans call the Camaro? Not surprisingly, they refer to the Camaro as "dà huáng fēng" which translates to "Bumblebee." This is of course a reference to the Camaro's consistent appearance in the Transformers' films, where the vehicle is often portrayed as a yellow and black Autobot nicknamed Bumblebee.

I will drive a "Bumblebee" any day over a "Fat Dragon" or "Broken Shoes"! LR

Hey! What Happened to the April/May Newsletter?

Some of you might be asking…what happened to the April/May edition of the PNWCC Newsletter? Well…you're looking at it! Confused? When we started up the Newsletter at the beginning of the year with the Jan/Feb Newsletter, we were already behind when it was released in March! So…we moved the Newsletter release for the future 2 months instead of the last two months. Not to worry though…all of the Birthdays and Anniversaries with PNWCC are listed in this edition…and it's a long list because we have covered 4 months worth - March-June listings! Cheers! LR
